MRS. OLSEN HEARD IN INTERESTING TALK

That there will be no cessation of war until the middle of 1942 was the opinion expressed by Florence Lee Olsen in her interesting talk Tuesday morning when she appeared on a program sponsored by St. Andrew's Episcopal church. She also discussed at length the many phases of the lend-lease bill now before Congress.

"The Family" by Nina Fedorova was chosen by the speaker as the most outstanding literary work on her current list and she highly recommended Maurine Whipple's, "The Giant Joshua," a story of the Mormons and their pioneer trials. Highlights from the play "There Shall Be No Night" by Robert E. Sherwood, playing currently at a Los Angeles theatre, and discussion of Emily Post's "Children are People" concluded the program. Luncheon followed and a business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Cheesman, Guild president.

BAPTIST LADIES MEET NEXT WEEK

The Missionary Society of the Baptist church will hold a regular monthly meeting Thursday, Feb. 20. The business meeting will begin at 10 o'clock followed by a program under the direction of Mrs. Alan Muir. The topic for the day is Foreign Missionary work in China. Mrs. L. D. Littlefield of Los Angeles will be the featured speaker. Special music will be presented and Mrs. Charlotte Seaborn will conduct the devotional period. Luncheon will be served at noon, followed by White Cross work in charge of Mrs. O. R. Hill.

Pageant at High School Honors P.T.A. Founders

"Can Parents Be Educated?" This was the topic chosen by Miss Irene Mills, who spoke in the absence of Mrs. C. H. Turner, at the Founders' Day program at Torrance High school P.T.A. meeting held at the auditorium.

A pretty pageant honoring the founders of P.T.A. was given by students of the English class as well as a humorous skit on the benefits of P.T.A. presented by Misses Marcia Rous, Betty Follis, Donna McGuire, Jean Yoder and Georgia Billingsley.

Past presidents, Mmes. Robt. S. Sleeth and Charles Woodcock were introduced and presented with corsages in recognition for their services to P.T.A. Other honor guests were Mmes. J. P. Ziegler, Gateway Council president, and J. J. Millard, Fern Avenue P.T.A. president.

Has Record Membership
In behalf of the room having the largest P.T.A. membership, L. Sauter, band master, was presented with a handsome bugle by Walter Smith, a student. Miss Elizabeth Parks, vice-principal, welcomed the mothers of the new seventh graders and also presented the students appearing on the program. Harriet Ferguson, accompanied by Mrs. Marjorie Cooke sang "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes."

Mrs. A. E. Kesber, membership chairman stated that 222 members are enrolled in the organization (the largest enrollment to date) and that work is going forward for a new membership drive. Results of a ballot on the Youth Center proposition, showed the ladies to be in accord with the movement.

At the tea table, beautiful with an arrangement of white stock and blue delphinium, Mrs. E. L. Hatter, Founders' Day chairman, was assisted by Mmes. C. Rous, A. E. Kerber and W. Rufus Page. A beautifully decorated Founders' Day cake was also cut on this, the fifth anniversary of the local organization.
